A Snapshot of 'Naturally Wild' Atikokan

From its establishment in 1899, Atikokan has been a community that has been shaped by its people, its experiences and in getting the most of the beauty around it.

Steeped in rich tradition Atikokan - derived from Ojibwa-Chippewa meaning 'caribou bones' or 'caribou crossing' - has seen its share of transition, of boom, and of bust. However, even in the face of challenges to our way of life, Atikokan's people and their spirit have always overcome what appear to be insurmountable adversity to thrive and prosper.

Atikokan is a fun, family-friendly community that takes pride in what it is, and never tries to present itself as something it cannot be, or does not wish to be. Though easily accessible, Atikokan retains a sense of remoteness and basks in the tranquility and relaxation that can only be found away from the big lights of the city. It relishes its small-town charm, and its ability to exceed everyday expectations.

Atikokan is on the doorstep of one of Ontario's most traditional wilderness areas, as Quetico Provincial Park stands among the best for its beauty and its ruggedness. It hosts one of the very best bass fishing tournaments, with the Atikokan Bass Classic drawing rave reviews and accolades from around the world. Its snowmachine trails and cross-country ski trail networks are unrivaled, and connect us with the rest of Canada and the northern United States. And the range of local services, from the Little Falls Golf Course to the outfitters, to the schools and the businesses that are here to serve you with a smile - work to make sure your Atikokan experience is the very best it can be.

It's a big part of the reason we're telling the world we're Naturally Wild. In a world with constant distraction, we're here to tout our relaxed attitude, leisurely pace, friendly conversation and peaceful activity - these have always been the hallmarks of Atikokan, and we're proud of it.

We're only too happy to have you here, whether it's for a day, for a week, or a lifetime. We are the Canoeing Capital of Canada. We are the Gateway to Quetico Provincial Park. We are Naturally Wild.

See you soon!

A Fish Tale

by Mike Sorenson

The Atikokan Bass Classic has proven what has been in the wind for many years now - that the Atikokan area has some of the best bass fishing in the world.

But it isn't just big bass that makes the Atikokan Bass Classic (and we're quoting Bob Richardson of Outdoors in the Heartland) "the best bass fishing tournament in North America," it's the simple fact that the whole community of Atikokan is 100-percent behind the overachieving group of volunteers that organize the whole thing. You can bet, therefore, that if you can drag yourself off the lake to attend the weigh-in, it'll be well worth it. There's nothing like rubbing elbows with the whole town and finding yourself cheering when big bass are hoisted and twenty pound plus bags of hawgs are announced. You know it's special when fathers and mothers and grandparents are in the tournament with the next generation, when weddings and summer vacations are planned around the tournament, when time away from the office is booked off solid. It's big, real big - and it's a part of Atikokan's Naturally Wild character.

If you're interested in giant smallies jumping out of the water against a backdrop of pine forest and glacier-carved granite shores, just watch the video. You can view past episodes of Outdoors in the Heartland on www.VisitAtikokan.ca - if that doesn't get you planning a trip to Atikokan - nothing will.

For a full schedule of local events that are fun for the whole family, check out visitatikokan.ca and atikokanbassclassic.com for more details.

SUMMER IN ATIKOKAN

Quetico Provincial Park

Quetico Provincial Park is one of Ontario's finest wilderness canoeing parks. With over 450 000 hectares of protected land and thousands of interconnected lakes, rivers, and streams, Quetico truly offers a lifetime of canoe tripping opportunities. It's not just the variety of canoe routes that draws folks back to Quetico throughout the years, it's the special trips shared with family and friends, the quiet solitude of a misty lake in the morning and it's the way the lakes and forests draw you in. Quetico Provincial Park means many different things to different people. Each of us take away an experience unique to the rest, but share in a recognition that there is something special about this place.
